She Has a Diploma From an American College-Rev. F. W. Damon Praises Her-Three Applications For Positions -Henry Treadway to Return In April

The first meeting of the Board of Health since the second day of January was held yesterday afternoof, with President Smith in the chair. An application from a Chinese lady named Mrs. Da Silva was received. She asked for a license to practice medicine. The diploma was exhibited. It was issued by an American college. The following to depart rather than stand trial letter was read :

W. O. SMITH, Esq., President of the Board of Health, Honolulu, H. I. DEAR SIR-I, the undersigned, having recently arrived in Honolulu, and desiring to start in medical practice, do hereby make application to the local Board of Health for a license, presenting my diploma for inspection, and since a guarantee of character is also required, a note from the Rev. F. W. Damon.

I may explain, that having been married since receiving my diploma I desire to be registered under the name of Yamei Kin Eca da Silva.

Respectfully, Y. KIN ECA DA SILVA. Honolulu, Feb. 6, 1895. Rev. F. W. Damon writes as fol-

Hon. W. O. SMITH, President of the Board of Health.

DEAR SIR: - It affords me much and has besides much valuable pleasure to state that both Mrs. Damon property. and I am personally acquainted with Mrs. Dr. Da Silva, and regard her as being a lady of true Christian character, of unusual culture and refinement and superior attainments in her profession. Her foster-parents, Dr. and

Mrs. McCarter, are also esteemed friends of ours. It is a source of much satisfaction to us that she proposes remaining here, and we believe that she will be able to greatly aid not only the women and children of her own nationality, but others as well. We rejoice that a Chinese lady has proved that she is able so thoroughly to acquire the training of our Anglo-Saxon civilization, and to a degree that would be a credit to any American or English woman. Trusting that the Board of Health will afford this cultured lady every opportunity of practicing her profes-sion in these islands,

I remain, dear Sir Very respectfully yours, FRANK W. DAMON. February 6, 1895.

HUTCHINSON MAKES STATEMENT.

Only One of the Number Represented by Counsel-Three Declined to Plead-Avalanche of Questions Propounded by Prisoners-Cases Not Concluded.

It was nearly 10 o'clock before the Military Commission got fairly sattled down to business yesterday morning. W. K. Hutchinson's case constituted the business in hand. Counsel Neumann called Andrew Knudsen, mate of the Waimanalo, as a witness for Knudsen testified that he was a sailor on board Walmanalo; remember boats that came off; Capt. Davies told me to get into the boat, and George Townsend told me to take an oar and pull. I was told if I didn't take hold and work I would be shot. I saw Hutchinson on board; we were together in the wheel house. Saw him talking with Warren and Townsend, were speaking of overthrow; called the guns "missionary" guns. Did The men will not be allowed to not speak to the accused after the guns were landed; accused said George sion is granted by the Minister of told him they were out to smuggle opium. This was before the guns were brought on board. Following Knudsen's testimony the following statement, signed by Hutchinson, was filed: The accused admits that the evidence of Capt. Davies is correct as regards the reason for the prisoner being on board the steamer Walmanalo and Arai, two of his countrymen. when she went for arms, also that he had no knowledge of the intent of the expedition or the purposes for which the arms were to be used. The accused never spoke to, saw before, or knew either Charles Warren or George Townsend before that day, versation or conversations with them or any of them relative to the purposes for which the said arms were to be used.

The prisoner states that he has not lived in Honolulu and had only arrived here on the 22d of December with intent to purchase an interest in the steamer Waimanalo, and in pur-suance of that object and as stated by Captain Davies, went at the said cap-tain's invitation, on the trip with the mura. The other defendant is still sel and her sea-going qualities.

The accused desires to most positively state that the reasons for his not having mentioned anything to the authorities relative to the landing of the arms were: First, his belief that it was a smuggling transaction and not directed against the direct edge of the location of the landing;

In arguing the case Mr. Neumann held that the only ground for convic-tion was furnished by the testimony of Townsend and Warren and that the liquor on board the Waimanalo doubtless had an indirect effect upon the memory of the witnesses. Much stress was laid on the statement that Hutchinson had an idea that he was going on an opium smuggling expedition; he had come to the city with a view of buying a part interest in the Waimanaio, and was invited out on this trip by Captain Davies. While ignorance of the law does not free from guilt, had the man known his duty he might have done differently. Mr. Neumann asked the Court to deal justly and leniently with the prisoner.

Judge-Advocate Robertson's argument was short. It was very strange, to say the least, that the accused should have selected this particular night for an excursion. It is true the testimony does not show that he at first knew where he was going, and this fact alone is responsible for the charge being misprision of treasure rather than treason. The sworn testimony of four witnesses cannot be
